

Booktalk!

Get your whole school excited about the upcoming Book Fair with these Chicken Doesn't Skate mini posters!

Step One: Ten days before your Fair arrives put up multiple copies of the mini poster A The Chicken Is Coming... around your school. Post for three days.

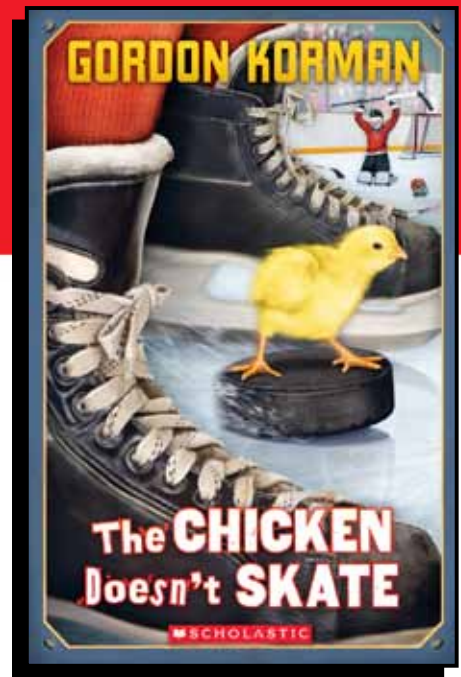

Some suggestions as to where the posters could go are your display case, library, staff room, gymnasium and classroom doors.

Enlist the help of student volunteers to help with putting the posters up and taking them down.

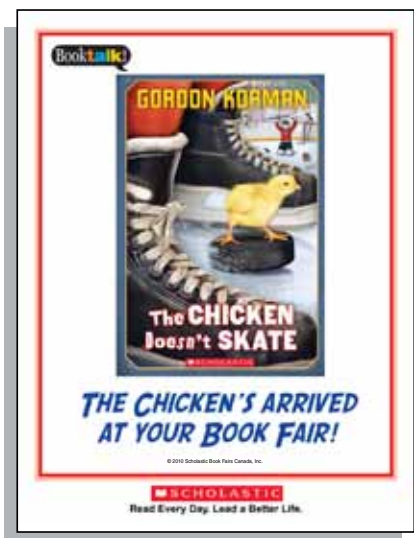

Step Two: Six days before your Fair replace mini poster A with mini poster B The Chicken's Almost Here...

By now the students and teachers are probably dying to know what's up with the chicken!

Step Three: On the first day of your Fair (or you may choose to do this the day before) take down mini poster B and put up mini poster C The Chicken's Arrived at Your Book Fair!
