About This Book

The Evil has been trying to break into our dimension and dominate the earth for centuries. Unbeknownst to most of us, there are Wardens all over the globe that protect humanity from the Evil that asserts itself at the Portals, which are the only places through which the Evil may pass into our world.

Twins Jaide and Jack Shield get the surprise of their lives when they are shipped off to live with their Grandma X. They didn't even know she existed! Even more surprising are the strange things that start to happen. Insects chase them, stormy weather haunts them, and their grandma's pet cat seems to understand them. Jaide and Jack don't know that the world is under attack. They don't know that their dad and their Grandma X are Wardens. They also don't know that they themselves are "troubletwisters" — young Wardens just coming into their powers. But soon they are in a battle for their lives, using powers they didn't even know they had. As they discover their family's ancient ancestry, they gain clues about their future, and the part they will have to play to save the world.
